WINTER WEEKEND IN VAL MÜSTAIR

In total 12 Huttli participated in the Val Müstair trip organized on 20–22 January 2017 by Christoph Basten. We stayed in the hostel in Sta. Maria, a nice old wooden farm house, and had dinner at the nearby restaurants Alpina and Schweizerhof. Some of us also tried the «Smallest Whiskey Bar on Earth» across the street. Though we were very lucky with sunny weather on all three days, the snow was not always as plentiful as we would have wished. While there was enough high quality snow for Mount Buffalora on Sunday, the Friday and Saturday tours to Piz Daint (the outermost mountain of Val Müstair, which we climbed from Punt Buffalora near Ofenpass) and Piz Val Gronda (directly from Sta. Maria) caused some scratches on our skis, but were fun nonetheless. We had been warned about the lack of snow and the rocks were actually clearly visible from a distance, but our summit fever was stronger. Hopefully we will get a chance to do the mountains we had to skip this time, in particular Piz Terza, on another occasion.
