It was pointed out by the panel, that merely substituting sugar with honey often showed a lack of blend and/or a clash of taste. Mrs Rufer's prize consists in a sizable quantity of honey, delivered to her home. Herewith the prizewinning recipe.—

Basler Laekerli:

1½ lb flour, ½ lb sugar, ½ lb honey, 1 level teaspoon cinnamon ground, 1 level teaspoon cloves ground, little nutmeg, ½ cup milk, ½ cup mixed peel, finely chopped; 3 oz almonds, chopped; 3 oz hazelnuts or walnuts, chopped; few drops rum aroma or Kirsch, 1 teaspoon baking soda, some icing sugar.

Method: Bring honey and sugar to boil, then add milk and mix well. Take it from the pan, mix with the flour and other ingredients which you have ready in a bowl. At last, add the baking soda, which you have dissolved in a little warm water. Knead the dough and leave it to rest for three to four hours.

Roll pieces quarter inch thick, put them on a greased and floured tray, brush with sugar water and bake 12 to 15 minutes at 350 degrees. When still hot, cut into two-inch squares and ice with icing sugar which contains a few drops of rum aroma. This biscuit will keep for months in airtight tins.

MOTORISTS' CALL SERVICE RUN BY THE SWISS POST OFFICE

Almost 14 years ago the Swiss Post Office decided to introduce a car radio call service for motorists. At the beginning of 1958, thanks to the combined efforts of the Swiss Post Office and industry, the scheme was far enough advanced for car call service to be started north of the Alps. As from this year this service will be available to motorists throughout Switzerland. Naturally it is not a system enabling motorists to telephone while driving, but one allowing any telephone subscriber in Switzerland, through a special exchange, to let a driver know by means of a signal clearly visible in his car that he is wanted on the phone. The driver then stops at the nearest public call box where he dials a special code number and is immediately put in touch with the person calling him. At present some 3,000 subscribers are connected to the Swiss automobile call service. They are divided into the following categories of occupations: tradesmen, represent-
