NO RED LIGHT AREAS IN JURA

One of the two sets of traffic lights in the Jura is in Delemont controlling the traffic across the narrow bridge over the river Maltièrè. The other set of traffic lights is in St. Ursanne, some 50 km away.

Motorists in the canton of Jura are lucky. In the whole canton there are only 2 traffic lights. Rather than installing traffic lights everywhere, the local authorities have opted for roundabouts to regulate the traffic.

So if you hate those traffic lights that always turn red when you come along and stay red seemingly for hours, go and live happily in the Jura. It is a real paradise for anti-traffic lights campaigners.

DO IT YOURSELF

The idea of selling goods direct from producer to consumer, cutting out the middle men like wholesalers, shops and supermarkets, is on the increase. Last month we mentioned that many farmers are now selling meat direct to scores of regular clients. Here is another example of "do it yourself" direct to the consumers.
