The Great Swiss Bake Off

Sunday, 24 September,

This was the 3rd edition of this event and once again there were plenty of fantastic cakes to choose from. The high calibre of entries made it a tough decision for the judges, Franz Mueller and Tanja Latham-Zurbrugg, to pick just one winning cake. Congratulations to Trudi Clements for winning the competition! In addition to the delicious cakes we were entertained by the Alpenländer Trio and the Swiss Ladies Choir. Thanks to everyone who made this fantastic afternoon happen and in particular Emil Tellenbach for organising the band.

Fondue Evening was held on Saturday 23rd September, same day as the elections and also change to daylight saving. Despite this we still had nearly 140 people including a few littlies, families, people who travelled big distances and a lot of our older long-standing members. What a busy night trying to collect enough fondue sets for everyone and then mixing up a huge quantity of fondue to feed everyone. As always it all came together thanks to a lot of preparation by the committee and a few other volunteers. There was plenty of home-made bread and cold meats to go with the fondue and everyone had a chance to get seconds or thirds. Following dinner we had our annual medal and trophy presentation. Congratulations to all the winners and also to all the participants. Some trophies were not handed out due to a very rainy day at the picnic. Also our medal numbers were well down for the same reason – hopefully better weather next year. At the conclusion of the evening everyone enjoyed a delicious fresh fruit salad served with cream and home-made meringues plus a big selection of other home-made goodies. Always a popular and busy night! Dishes seemed endless but thanks to the steriliser this is slightly more efficient. Thanks to the committee, their partners and other members who offered their help with baking, setting up and tidying up.

Family Walk was held on Sunday 5th November and just nine members met at the Blue Springs near Putaruru. After not a very good forecast it turned out to be a lovely day and along the way the group met two other Swiss families doing the walk without knowing it had been organised by the club. They enjoyed beautiful bush, lovely vistas of crystal clear water and great company.

On the 9th of October the Singing and

We were pleased to see Charlie Chamberlain in his Swiss jacket looking so smart, and wonderful to see his daughter Carol too! There are quite a number of our Swiss Club members currently at Annie Brydon, so if anyone has a few spare moments when in Hawera please pop in and visit them. The residents all seemed to enjoy listening to our traditional songs and music, and it was a privilege to entertain them.

On the 20th of October the Singing and Entertainment Group catered for and entertained the New Plymouth Stroke Support Trust members and we were pleased to provide them lunch of barbecued cervelats / bratwursts with a huge selection of delicious salads, followed by tea / coffee with afternoon tea. Thank you to all the ladies who provided food and assisted in any way. A huge thanks to Margaret and Doreen who always finish the dishes, clean up the kitchen and prepare afternoon tea ... you really are both treasures and we appreciate all the work you do for us ... thank you both immensely!!! They all enjoyed the accordion music, traditional Swiss songs, blowing the alphorn (and many took the opportunity to try and make a sound blowing the alphorn ... with mixed results!!! But they all relished being able to give it a go!!!), tahlerschwingen and then joined the group singing some songs in English they knew. It is such a privilege being able to give something back to the community we live in.

On the 3rd of November members of the Singing and Entertainment Group all enjoyed a meal out at Colonel Malones in Stratford. Nice to be able to enjoy a meal and relax, without having to do the work!!!

Sunday 10 September - cards

Jassen has resumed in the traditional form – a warm thank you to Oliver who organized a few Jass afternoons while I had a real summer in Switzerland – no, I didn't miss the Wellington rain the tiniest little bit; I enjoyed the sunshine, and the water temperature in the many clean Swiss lakes was between 20 and 25 degrees... Anyway, here I am, enjoying the Jass Sundays again.

We enjoyed playing cards on 10th September, although some of our key players were still overseas – and probably playing cards in Switzerland (TB).

Sunday 8 October - cards

We had six players, so had to settle for a game with two packs of cards, which led to new strategies – and many surprises. It's amazing how fast our players adapt to a new set of rules, a new way of thinking and quick decision making! We certainly deserved the treats that came from Lotti's, Gabrielle's and Lisabet's kitchen! Thank you all! (TB)

Saturday 14 October – Vol-au-vent dinner

The evening was really pleasant and the small group of attendees really enjoyed themselves. Thanks to Rahel who was Chef de Cuisine for the Bodenständige Kost. One big highlight was the caramel slice with apple sauce cream dessert, an absolute treat for kids and grownups – just a pity that I now have to fast until Christmas!

It was great to have the company from our friends from Taranaki, Marliese and Othmar. Special thanks to Othmar for his impromptu entertainment with Handorgel and Alphorn. Everyone who had a go will definitely appreciate now what a great skill it is to play the "mountain trumpet" so well as he does.

(MS)

Sunday 5 November - cards

We had a very pleasant afternoon; nine players – some of them only recently back from their trips to Switzerland and other expeditions – turned up. We had pre-afternoon coffee and a chat before we settled into the serious or not-so-serious business of playing cards. We were spoilt with rich afternoon tea, provided again by Lotti and Gabrielle, and Lisabet's assortment of fruit gave us the energy to keep playing till five. We had quite a few matches and near-matches – all good fun! (TB)
