OBITUARY NOTICE.

Gustave Charles Aguet, C.B.E. †

We very much regret to announce the death, at the age of 75, of Mr. Gustave Charles Aguet, C.B.E., of 42a, Great Cumberland Place, W.1. and Holmwood, Surrey, which took place last Saturday, the 19th inst., at Cannes (France), after a short illness. Previous to the cremation at Golders Green a funeral service is being held to-day, Saturday, at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Church, Portman Square, W.1. Mr. Aguet was for many years President of the Board of Directors of the Nestlé & Anglo-Swiss Condensed Milk Co., of Cham and Vevey.

The following obituary Notice is taken from the Times (Feb. 17th) :—

There died at Cannes last Saturday one whose name is little known to the Press or the general public, Gustave Aguet, C.B.E., chairman of the Board of the great Swiss Nestlé Company. Mr. Aguet, who was of Swiss parentage, the nephew of a former chairman of the Company, came to London after an apprenticeship in international banking over 45 years ago. For nearly the whole of this time his home had been in England, and although he never abandoned the nationality of which he was justly proud, he loved and was loved by the people with whom he lived.

Up to August, 1914, Mr. Aguet enjoyed the happy experience of managing a very prosperous business, securing the confidence and respect of all with whom he came in contact. During the war period, when the fighting forces and the civil population were alike clamorous for food, the conduct of the business became a problem of rapid and extensive development. From the new experience of Government control, Mr. Aguet emerged with added laurels and many new friends. After the Armistice the enormous expansion of volume and values during the war period was suddenly reduced, and with this came serious temporary losses to the Company and its chief. Happily Mr. Aguet lived to see the complete restoration of the success which he had done so much to secure, but during the darkest and most difficult days the courage and buoyancy of his indomitable spirit never left him.

In the City, on the Continent, among bankers, wherever Mr. Aguet was known his word was taken implicitly, and many were the proofs he had that his unsupported statement of values could obtain credit in millions, even at the time when heavy losses had been publicly recorded in the reports of his Company. As one London banker said: "In this case I want neither auditor nor valuer; if Mr. Aguet says so it is enough for me." A fine figure of a man, with all the grace of a great gentleman, courageous in action, fertile in imagination, his unaging mind was brightened by unflinching humour. There is no niche in the temple of Fame for his charming personality, and there will be no public memorial of this large minded man who made unadvertised goodness so attractive.
