FEDERAL.

SWISS WATCH TRADE.

The Société Générale de l'Horlogerie Suisse, S.A., which has just been formed in Neuchâtel, with a capital of Frs.10,000,000, represents an attempt to consolidate the various branches of the watchmaking industry in Switzerland. The Series "A" shares, which represent 50 per cent. of the capital, are to be subscribed by the various banks interested in the formation, while the "B" shares represent the participation of the watchmaking industry itself. Provisionally the shares will be 20 per cent. paid up and ownership is strictly confined to Swiss nationals.

The Board is representative of the various interests concerned, and is under the chairmanship of Mr. Hermann Obrecht, of Soleure, who, in addition to his directorship of the Swiss Bank Corporation, is chairman of the "Ebauches" Trust, which was formed at the time to consolidate the Swiss business in watch and clock parts.

It is probable that the Swiss Government will provide the new institution with working capital in the form of an outright contribution of Frs. 5,000,000 to Frs.8,000,000 and a non-interest-bearing loan of Frs.5,000,000, which would be redeemable over a long period of years. The participating banks will also advance an amount of Frs.10,000,000 as working capital, so that, with the amount of Frs.2,000,000 paid up on the Ordinary capital, total funds of about Frs.25,000,000 should be available.

The new concern will virtually embrace the entire Swiss watchmaking industry, and hold half the share capital of the "Ebauches" Trust referred to above. Steps are being taken to purchase the business of those independent concerns which have not been willing to come into the scheme.

NEW SWISS LOAN.

The Swiss Federal Council proposes to issue a new Federal Conversion loan to the amount of Frs.200,000,000, either towards the end of the present month or early in September.

The object is to provide for the conversion of the Four and a-Half per Cent. Seventh Mobilisation Loan, which is outstanding to the amount of Frs.100,000,000, and of the Five per Cent. Loan of 1923, which is outstanding to an equal amount. It is expected that the loan will take the form of a 4 per cent. issue at par.

LOAN TO WARSAW.

The Saurer Motor Co., has, it is understood, granted a long-term loan of $3,000,000 to the City of Warsaw.

One-third of the loan is to be in the form of deliveries of Saurer motor omnibuses and the balance is to be in cash.

SWISS THRIFT.

Notwithstanding the prevailing economic depression, the sums deposited in the Swiss banks last year in the form of savings increased by about £19,120,000, while deposits in shares and bonds rose by £18,000,000. The aggregate deposits in shares and savings at the end of last year were nearly £460,000,000, representing about £112 per head of the population.

The title of "Schwingerkoenig" was bestowed for the second time in succession on Hans Roth from Oberburg, who beat Fritz Jaberg of Dettligen.

ASSISTING POOR BRIDES.

In Switzerland it is the custom for engaged girls, whatever their social standing, to possess a complete trousseau, without which they have a poor chance of getting married. A society has been formed to enable poor girls to acquire this necessary asset. Each applicant is required to submit a medical certificate showing that she is in good health and fit to marry, the society's aim being not only to help poor girls to marry, but to encourage earlier and healthier marriages for benefit of the country as a whole. The society relies chiefly upon wealthy brides for its funds, these being asked to deny themselves of unnecessary display and contribute the amount saved to the fund to help their poorer sisters.

LOCAL.

ZURICH.

A terrible accident happened last Sunday night on the lake of Zurich. A few members of the Arbeiterradfahrverein Thalwil, who spent the Sunday at the latter place together with a neighbouring cyclist club, decided to go late at night on a motor trip across the lake to Küsnacht. Although the motor boat was only commissioned to carry at the utmost 7 passengers, eleven persons boarded the boat. During the crossing of the lake a violent storm broke out which tossed the heavily loaded boat unmercifully on the big waves. About one hundred metres outside Küsnacht the tragedy occurred. A big wave washed over the boat filling it with water and turning it upside down, throwing the passengers into the lake. Cries for help were heard on the shore and the life boat from Küsnacht set out at once. Arriving on the spot of the disaster they encountered two bodies of women floating on the surface. Four of the company, who were able to swim, succeeded in reaching the shore in safety, amongst them the fifteen year old daughter of the owner of the boat, who dragged along with her, her 56 year old father, who when taken out of the water was found to be dead. The four survivors were taken to the house of Dr. Suter, who rendered first aid.

It is not yet ascertained whether six or seven persons met their death. Amongst the bodies which were identified, are the wife of the baker Muller at Thalwil, an employee of the bakery, and a Mrs. Weber and her daughter, both residents of Thalwil. A young man who was saved, learned on his recovery that his mother lost her life in the disaster which unnerved him to such an extent, that he tried to commit suicide by throwing himself out of the window, fortunately he was prevented from doing so at the last minute.

The two brothers Gobat from Basle, accompanied by M. Wettstein of Zurich were on their way to climb the Aiguille d'argentière when they were overtaken by a violent storm. They however managed to reach the Bardet-Bändern where they spent the night exposed to the tempest, in consequence of which, one of the brothers died through sheer exhaustion. The two remaining tourists then decided to return to the Baleinaz hut, but on the way down, Wettstein felt too tired to continue his way, and Gobat undertook to return alone to fetch help for his comrade. A rescue party started out at once, but when they found Wettstein he was already dead and all attempts to restore him to life were in vain. A further party left the following day to bring home the body of Gobat. M. Wettstein who was born in 1899 was the eldest son of M. Wettstein, Member of Parliament.
