THE SWISS MINISTER ENTERTAINS THE PRESIDENTS.

The Presidents of the societies and other Swiss institutions in our Colony were entertained to lunch at the Dorchester Hotel by the Swiss Minister on Wednesday, April 20th.

M. Thurnheer who looked exceptionally well received each of his guests with his usual kindness thus making everyone feel thoroughly at home. In his address after luncheon the Minister expressed his regret that the additional work which the present emergency forced upon him had rendered it impossible to take and cultivate that personal contact with the different clubs and societies which he considered part of his mission; he asked the Presidents to convey to their members his keen interest in the useful work and devotion they were showing all round. All our institutions were represented at the table and they all had his full support and best wishes for the future prosperity but he desired to specially congratulate M. C. Campart, the life-long President of the Secours Mutuels which Society to-day celebrated the 240th anniversary of its existence. It seemed to him somewhat undeserving that this society which was deploying so vital an activity amongst the members of our Colony should have a comparatively small membership. He was sure that if their work were more widely known, this shortcoming would be remedied and he applied there and then for ordinary membership — an encouraging gesture which was received with hearty applause. M. Thurnheer also paid tribute to M. Louis Chapuis who during the London Blitz as President of the hurriedly improvised Relief Centre had undertaken and ardently performed a heavy task for which the whole Colony could not thank him sufficiently. As a token of his personal appreciation he presented M. Chapuis with a painting of his birth-place (Lausanne). In terminating the Swiss Minister complimented the new Presidents who had recently been elected to that office in their respective societies, i.e. the City Swiss Club, the Union Ticinese and Swiss Philatelic. All those honoured by the Minister's reference suitably replied.
