Switzerland's Independence Day (1st of August) was celebrated throughout Switzerland, with great enthusiasm.

Dr. Ph. Etter, President of the Swiss Confederation, spoke on the Radio to the Swiss people.

Federal-Councillor Dr. Stampfli, during a patriotic address in Olten, congratulated the Swiss electors on their acceptance of the Old Age and Survivors Insurance.

Madame Eva Perón, wife of the President of the Republic of Argentina arrived in Geneva on the 4th of August. She was greeted on her arrival by a representative of the Federal Council, and high officials of the canton of Geneva.

After a short stay, she travelled by special train to the Federal capital where she was received by Federal-Councillor and Madame Petitpierre, Switzerland's Foreign Minister.

On the conclusion of a drive through the town, Madame Perón was the guest of the President of the Swiss Confederation and the Federal Council, at an official Banquet given at the "von Wattenwyl Haus" during which speeches depicting the friendly relations between the two countries were given.

The next day the visitors travelled by special train to Lucerne, where an official reception was held at the town hall, followed by an excursion to the Tell's chapel. On their return to Berne, Madame Perón offered a Banquet to the Federal authorities at the Hotel Bellevue Palace.

The visit concluded with a visit to La Chaux-de-Fonds, where she inspected a watch manufacturing establishment. Unfortunately the visit was marred by some unpleasant incidents such as the throwing of tomatoes and stones. The Swiss Government has expressed regrets to Madame Perón for the breach of hospitality committed.

He was in constant touch with the German Legation in Berne to which he gave information about troop movements, etc. He obtained the services of his own brother, who some time ago was condemned by a military court to several years imprisonment.

VARIED AND APPETISING

With Maggis Aspic Jelly valuable additions may be made to war-time menus. From meat, fish and vegetable "left-overs" attractive supplementary dishes can be contrived.

INVALID ASPIC

Maggis Aspic Jelly in a small mould daintily served with two or three small strips of toast will be a welcome change from "beef tea."

FISH ASPIC

Cod or Salmon remaining from the boiled fish can be used, also prawns or shrimps. Fill the mould $\frac{3}{4}$ full and when nearly set put in the flakes of fish and fill up.

JELLIED BEEF SOUP

A rich jellied beef soup may be made instantly with the addition of boiling water. Greatly appreciated by Fire-Watchers.

MEAT ASPIC

Cooked fresh sausage meat or meat left over from the joints may be used minced. Drop the meat into the jelly before setting and serve with a little watercress or cress.

ASPIC SANDWICHES

Spread the slices of bread with margarine and then with a thin layer of jelly. Add grated cheese, watercress, mustard and cress, meat or fish paste.

The same Tribunal passed a sentence of two years imprisonment on Hans Schorer (1915) living in Zurich, one of the accomplices of Eberhard.

—oo—

The 62nd Federal Gymnastic Festival took place in Berne from the 18th—21st of July. 1,187 sections with together 30,000 gymnastics have taken part. The last Federal Gymnastic Festival took place in Winterthur in 1936, and the participation at this year's festival is considered to be the highest ever recorded.

Three separate processions numbering between 6—7,000 men marched through the gaily decorated town in beautiful sunshine, and were enthusiastically greeted by thousands of spectators.

On the last day, the general exercises took place at the Allmend in which 22,000 men took part, this imposing spectacle was watched by 100,000 spectators. Dr. Etter, President of the Swiss Confederation, addressed the gathering. Amongst the official guests were members of the Federal Government, General Guisan, members of the Diplomatic Corps and delegates from many Foreign Gymnastic Societies.

Two French alpine guides, Lionnel Terray from Chamonix and Louis Lachenal from Annecy, have made the difficult and dangerous ascent to the summit of the Eiger via the "Nordwand." Owing to bad weather conditions they had to spend two nights at the "Nordwand" before reaching the top. On their return they declared that they would under no circumstances make the ascent a second time. (The first ascent over the "Nordwand" was made in 1937 by four German mountaineers).

More than 8,000 boys from various schools throughout Switzerland will voluntarily spend their holiday by working on the land. In addition, a large number of students from different universities will also spend parts of their vacation on farms.

On the 25th of July, it was two years since the first batch of American holiday making soldiers arrived in Switzerland. Since 1945, about 300,000 soldiers have visited our country, and it is estimated that they have spent an amount of about one hundred million francs during their stay.

Thirty-four countries with 1,380 delegates were represented at the International Esperanto Congress which opened in Berne on the 27th of July. The opening meeting was addressed by Federal-Councilor E. v. Steiger, who welcomed, on behalf of the Swiss Government, the delegates.
