NEWS OF THE COLONY.

R. Pfenninger,
PRESIDENT CITY SWISS CLUB.

We have much pleasure in introducing to our readers, Mr. R. Pfenninger, who has recently been elected President of the City Swiss Club for 1953/54, in succession to Mr. C. Seinet, who, after two years, has relinquished his post, which he so efficiently occupied.

Mr. Pfenninger was born in Zurich in 1902, and received all his schooling, as far as the University, in his native town. He studied economics at the Universities of Zurich, Hamburg, Freiburg i. Br. concluding at Zurich.

Chance rather than design brought him in contact with banking activities. Mr. Pfenninger worked with Banks in Zurich, Bremen and Brussels. In 1929, he came to England for the first time, and unable to obtain a working permit, attended courses at the College of the Swiss Mercantile Society.

The following year he entered the service of the Swiss National Bank, where he stayed for 20 years rising to the rank of Deputy General Manager. For many years Mr. Pfenninger was mostly concerned with relations with other Central Banks and with trade and financial negotiations with other countries. He was a permanent member of the Swiss Trade Delegation for negotiation with the Government of this country. In this capacity he spent a great deal of time between the outbreak of the war up to the end of 1942 in London, and it was during this time that Mr. Pfenninger was on various occasions the guest of the City Swiss Club.

In 1943 he went to the U.S.A. as representative of the Swiss National Bank, staying for three years in New York and Washington. Other assignments took him again to North and South America, as well as to many European countries.

Seven years later (1950), Mr. Pfenninger was asked by the Head Office of the Swiss Bank Corporation whether he would accept the position as Manager of their London Office. Being unable to resist the temptation he accepted and in the following year brought his family to London.

In earlier years, he did a lot of military service but owing to his official activities was exempt from service during the war. His hobbies are manifold, and vary from football to book collecting but has, unfortunately time for none.

We congratulate the City Swiss Club on having been able to secure for the Post of President a man with such a distinguished career, and we extend to Mr. Pfenninger our very best wishes for a successful year of office.

On the conclusion of the business part of the Meeting, during which the President voiced his appreciation to the members for having been entrusted with the leadership of the Club, he gave the word to Lord Llewellyn, who addressed the company on "Parliamentary Procedure".

The speaker, who received a hearty ovation on rising from his seat, thanked the members for the cordial invitation to their Club, and shortly referred to the always friendly relations which have existed between the two countries.

Lord Llewellyn dealt very ably with certain aspects of the House of Commons, and the House of Lords, such as Question Time, Vote of Censure, Order in Council, the power of the Speaker of the House of Commons and the Lord Chancellor of the House of Lords, the art of catching the Speakers eye, etc. etc.

His witty repartee, and comparisons between the Parliaments of the two countries were greatly enjoyed.
