NEWS AT RANDOM

Federal

No sooner had the alarming news of the terrible disasters in Great Britain, Holland and Belgium become known in our country, than Federal, Cantonal and Local authorities, as well as private bodies, started collections.

As reported in our last issue the Federal Council has made a first donation of 100,000.— frs. to the Swiss Red Cross, and the "Chain of Solidarity" sponsored by Radio Lausanne, has collected so far over 2½ million francs.

Up till last week the following donations had been published in the Swiss Press: Swiss Red Cross: 1 million francs; Government of the canton of Zurich: 100,000.— frs.; Migros Genossenschaften: 160,925.— frs.; Evangelischer Kirchenbund: 50,000.— frs.; Government of the canton of Berne: 30,000.— frs.; Government of the canton of Aargau: 25,000.— frs.; Town of Berne: 10,000.— frs.; Town of Winterthur: 10,000.— frs.; Government of canton of Geneva: 10,000.— frs.; Schweizer Gewerkschaftsbund: 10,000.— frs.; Municipal Council, Lucerne: 5,000.— frs.; Genossenschaft Schweizer Mustermessen: 5,000.— frs.; Municipal Council, St. Gall: 5,000.— frs.; Government of the canton of Valais: 5,000.— frs.; Government of the canton of Neuchâtel: 5,000.— frs.; Schweiz. Kaufmännischer Verein: 2,000.— frs.; Town of La Chaux-de-Fonds: 2,000.— frs.

In addition to cash payments large quantities of clothing, mattresses, sheets, rugs, woollen materials, pillows and pillow cases, shoes and 500,000 sandbags have been flown by Swissair to England, Holland and Belgium.

Children from Holland and Belgium have been flown to Switzerland and will be cared for.

Pauli shot one of them for looting, and under his orders two more were executed without judgement.

S.S. guards under Pauli's orders had already been sentenced to death in 1947 by a French military court and executed, but Pauli, remembering that his father was of Swiss origin took shelter in Switzerland. His counsel asked for Pauli's acquittal on the ground that Swiss courts were not competent, but the court overruled that claim. [A.T.S.]

More than 20 main roads in Switzerland are blocked by snowdrifts accumulated by a freezing north wind, and 17 motorcars were abandoned on the road between Lausanne and Yverdon. Game is approaching villages and farmhouses for food, and measures have been taken for the provision of fodder near forests for hungry deer. For the first time for about 30 years chamois have been driven away from the high mountains by hunger and intense cold, and several herds have been seen roaming in the country a few miles north of Lausanne.
