NEWS FROM THE COLONY

FIRST OF AUGUST AT THE ISLE OF WIGHT

The Swiss of the Isle of Wight met on Tuesday Evening, 1st August, to celebrate the National Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zuber at Ventnor. The participants remembered the grief which had fallen on their home during the summer with the death of their teenage grandson. Participants enjoyed an evening snack consisting of coffee and delicious Swiss pastries. We should like to take this opportunity of extending Mr. and Mrs. Zuber a warm Vergelt's Gott.

New Reservations Manager for Swissair London

Swissair has appointed Ruedi Seiz reservations and telephone sales manager at their London office. He succeeds Mrs. Gita Bhatia who is leaving the company.

Mr. Seiz joined Swissair in 1962 in the reservations department of their Zurich head office, where he became a supervisor. From early 1966 he worked on the planning and introduction of the PARS computerised reservations system on the Swissair network, changing over in 1970 to the electronic data processing department as a programmer, writing and modifying PARS programmes.

He is 29, married, with three children.

Brown Boveri

Brown Boveri static power supply system, the first of its type to be ordered for a large-scale UK computer installation, has been operating continuously since November 1971 in the London Hospital Computer Centre at Whitechapel.

This system renders the Hospital's two UNIVAC computers immune from power blackouts, and maintains power to the whole computer complex for thirty minutes. Subsequently, a diesel generator may be installed to supply power to the system, enabling uninterrupted processing during power-breaks of more than one hour.

THE ROYAL NAVY GREETSWITZERLAND

At Samedan, in the Upper Engadine, a ceremony of a special kind was celebrated on 18th August.

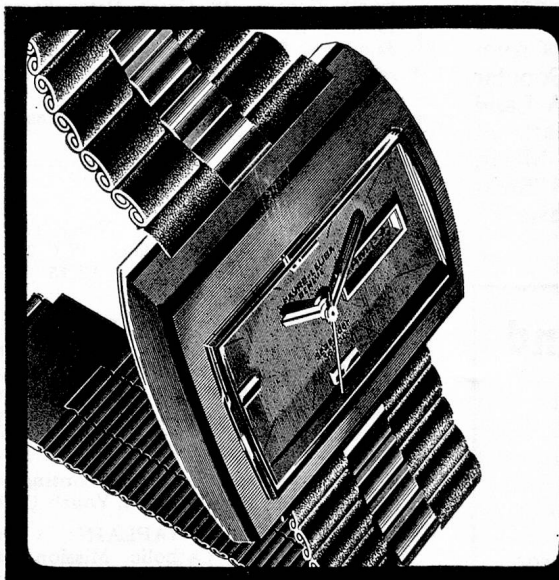

The Commander of the Royal Navy's aircraft carrier "Engadine," Captain B. H. Rutterford, together with his family, paid a visit to the Engadine, the Swiss valley that gave his ship her name. The Grisons Tourist Office organised a Reception in Captain Rutterford's honour, which was attended by many local dignitaries.

As far back as 1911, the Royal Navy had a ship called "Engadine," and Captain Rutterford's ship is the third to bear the name. There is also a training ship called "Engadine."

Captain Rutterford was presented with a painting of the Engadine valley and a photo-book.

The Royal Fleet Auxiliary "Engadine," based in Portland (Dorset), already has a Swiss cowbell and a book on Swiss mountains among her souvenirs.

GENEVA MAYOR VISITS MANCHESTER

A party of Geneva officials led by Mrs. Lise Girardin, Mayor and Delegate of the Council of States in Berne, flew to Manchester on an outing marking the opening of the Geneva-Manchester route by BEA. This follows the opening last year of the Manchester-Geneva link when the Lord Mayor of Manchester visited Geneva.

The Genevese delegation was met at Manchester Airport by the Lord Mayor and drove in a procession of black limousines to the huge and Gothic Town Hall, decorated by Swiss and British flags which were hanging limp in the rain. A Dinner was held in its precincts at the end of the day. Besides town officials from Manchester, the mayors of Blackpool and Chester were among those who attended this function. The party had made an outing to these two towns during the day and had also visited General Consul Rolf Born of Manchester. Mr. Born had the opportunity of greeting his British counterpart, Mr. Evans, British Consul in Geneva.
