“How can I increase my storage capacity quickly and with the minimum amount of fuss?”

Simply call Acrow

It was to answer just that type of question that Acrow Automation initiated their new Advisory Service.

Drawing upon years of specialised experience . . . able to specify from today's most up-to-date range of equipment . . . these experts will solve your problem quickly and economically.

It may be that you need better use of the storage cube . . . in which case the extra height capability of Super Acrowrack will enable you to make use of previously wasted space. It may be that you are wasting cabinet space by leaving unnecessary aisles . . . in which case the sliding cabinets of Compacrow will almost double your capacity.

When your requirements have been fully assessed a countrywide network of installation teams is ready to go into action. And it doesn't end there . . . Acrow representatives continue to keep an eye on the installation . . . and there is a safety inspection service to ensure that every requirement of the Health & Safety at Work Act is met.

So why not . . . simply call Acrow!
